E. Formal Resolution Process

The formal resolution process is an administrative remedy which requires an investigation and written findings. One or two investigators will be designated to conduct a timely investigation to ensure an objective review of the allegations. The statements of the complainant, respondent and witnesses become part of a written record which will be used for administrative review and action as necessary.

1. Formal complaints alleging discrimination must include the following information:
 - a. The names of the respondent and complainant.
 - b. Their affiliation to the university.
 - c. A description of the offensive behavior and circumstances.
2. A formal complaint should also include the following information:
 - a. A description of any attempts to resolve the problem informally.
 - b. An explanation of the impact on the complainant.
 - c. Specific remedies requested.
3. The investigator(s), in determining whether the alleged conduct constitutes discrimination, must give consideration, to the record as a whole, to the totality of the circumstances, and where applicable to regulatory guidelines.
4. A copy of the written findings will be distributed to the complainant, the of General Counsel and the Statewide Office of Human Resources.
5. Any person who:
 - a. commits discrimination; or
 - b. fails to perform his or her investigatory or supervisory responsibilities; or
 - c. makes false claims or provides false testimony against another will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action including, but not limited to, verbal and written reprimands, probation, suspension or termination.
6. The standard of proof in any investigation shall be the preponderance of the evidence. When a preponderance of the evidence is found to substantiate a complaint, disciplinary action may be taken. In determining what disciplinary action may be appropriate, the extent to which the respondent knew or reasonably should have known that his or her conduct was harmful or offensive will be himself or herself to be discriminated against, even if the practices complained of do not, in fact, constitute discrimination.

2. Threats or other forms of intimidation or retaliation against complainants, respondents, witnesses or investigators will constitute a violation of this regulation and may be subject to separate administrative action, including termination for cause.

I. Bargaining Unit Employees

1. If disciplinary action may result from an investigation of a bargaining unit employee alleged to have engaged in discrimination, the employee has a right to union representation during an investigatory interview with the employee. If a union representative is present for the investigation of a bargaining unit employee, the union representative will also receive a copy of the written findings of the investigation.
2. Bargaining unit employees who have been disciplined pursuant to this regulation must resolve their disputes through the dispute resolution processes provided in their collective bargaining agreement. Copies of written documentation of disciplinary action taken will be provided to their union representative.

J. Training programs on discrimination will be designed to:

1. Provide employees with current information on federal an Policy, University Regulation, and administrative procedures; and
